

To whom it may concern,

I am a great supporter of multiple use for our national forests. I want you to carefully consider, please, the use of snowmachines on the old Iditarod Trail. I was a member of a group that put together the modern Iditarod Race in 1973 as a resident of Girdwood. I have traveled with dog teams in the area but I do also support the use of the forests by considerate snowmachining individuals. I know some. Actually, several cross country ski trips would not have been so wonderful were it not for the snow machine trails that we were able to follow.

Thanks for your consideration.

Katherine C. Hart